The main things to remember about Europe are:

- Many cobblestone streets - so please pack comfortable shoes for touring
- "Smart casual" clothing for daytime touring.
- Women and men dress up more in Europe than we do (normally), so avoid wearing athletic wear or baseball caps unless by the pool or on a boat.
- Europeans typically do not run around in workout shoes. They do wear "trainers" which are an upscale version of a sneaker.
- Please note that Europeans do not typically wear shorts in the city. They do wear them by the sea. If wearing shorts in the city, they should be dressier.
- People dress up more at night- especially in the cities.
- Good to dress in layers- especially in northern Europe, where weather can change rapidly
- You may want to carry "a purse within a purse" so you have something by day and a small one at night
- We suggest having women carry a crossbody purse with a zipper for safety reasons.

Laundry service is generally available at your hotels. Prices can vary widely though, so please note price lists (and return timing) before using the service. Pack less than you think. You can always go shopping!
